

LIUC

A group of four diverse students (two men and two women) are gathered around a globe, looking at it with interest and curiosity. The students are smiling and appear to be in a classroom or study environment. The globe is the central focus, showing continents in various colors. The background is bright and slightly blurred, suggesting a window or a well-lit room.

LIUC - Università Cattaneo

The University

LIUC was founded in 1991 by 300 entrepreneurs, united in a common goal: to start an important educational project which would combine the new kind of demands of the working world with advanced teaching methodology.

In keeping with the ideals of its founders, nowadays LIUC is being called upon to prepare citizens and leaders to live and work in a globalized society, addressing the research and education needs of the European and Global Economy.

In this ever-changing environment, being International is an inherent component of our mission. This objective is achieved not only through mobility, but also by building an international curriculum with relevant contents taught in English.

Our International Relations Office (IRO) is devoted to this academic experience at LIUC and gives students the opportunity to develop the intercultural competencies, transnational understanding and leadership skills necessary to face global challenges: IRO brings LIUC to the world and the world to LIUC!

Courses taught in English

LIUC has two Schools: Economics & Management and Industrial Engineering.

LIUC offers Management Economics and Industrial Engineering courses held in English and taught by local and international lecturers.

Courses are offered at Bachelor level and Master level and are open to Italian and international students who have the appropriate prerequisites.

Students may choose courses from the two schools.

LANGUAGES AND INTERCULTURAL SKILLS

The University offers Italian language courses at three different levels. The first level is strongly suggested for all students who have had no previous exposure to Italian language and gives them the basic skills for their everyday life in Italy. The language centre also offers courses in English, French, German and Spanish with the opportunity to take international certificate exams such as TOEFL, BEC, etc. Courses in intercultural competence and international communication are also offered with the aim of helping students to better understand cultural differences and develop the ability to interact and work in an international environment.

ASSESSMENTS

Most courses have written exams although some may have an oral assessment. The exams take place at the end of the semester and all students must be present until the last exam date they have. Attendance, assignments and class participation may also be considered part of the final mark.

TRANSCRIPT OF RECORDS

Students will be awarded ECTS credits for each successfully completed course and provided with a transcript of records that will be sent to the International Office at the home institution. Visiting students will receive their transcript of records at their home address. The University is part of European Credit Transfer System and all transcripts will show local and European Grades.

CREDITS

The Italian Credit System is compatible with the European Credit Transfer System (ECTS) and is based on an annual workload of 60 ECTS credits (1500 hours). One credit is worth 25 hours and is based on the total workload of the student (class time, individual study and exam preparation). A course which has 5 ECTS credits means a total workload of 125 hours with typically around 40 hours class contact time. Students may take up to 30 ECTS credits per semester.

1 semester = 30 ECTS credits

1 year = 60 ECTS credits

Local customs and traditions

GREETINGS

While “ciao” is a well-known Italian greeting, it is usually used only among friends. So when you’re introduced to strangers, it’s often better to say “molto lieto” or “piacere”. When entering a shop or public venue, say “buongiorno” (good day) or “buonasera” (good evening), and “arrivederci” when leaving.

Do not call a stranger by their first name unless invited to do so, or use the more familiar form of address (tu). Many Italian families and friends (also of the same sex) kiss on meeting, first on the right cheek and then on the left. Be sure to aim for the cheek, not the lips.

DRESS

Italians tend to dress more formally than many of their European or American neighbours. This does not mean wearing a tuxedo or evening dress at all times, but style and presentation - often described as Bella Figura - can be very important.

APERITIVO HAPPY HOURS

If you are a student or someone on a tight budget, take advantage of the custom of “aperitivo”. Many bars put on decent spreads of food - not just snacks - for those who buy a drink. Two-for-one offers mean that buffet dinner and a couple of drinks can often be had for 8-10 euro. While it is often seen as a pre-event activity, the aperitivo can last from 6pm until as late as 9pm.

FAMILY

Family remains important to modern Italians, and ties can be strong. If family members live close to each other, it is not unusual for them to try to meet up for a meal together to discuss the day.

If you are invited to dinner by an Italian family, remember to bring a small gift, perhaps typical of your country of origin. Do not start eating before everyone is seated, and a family member says “Buon appetito!” Many Italian mothers will serve an intimidating quantity of food, specially prepared for a guest from abroad. Try to pace yourself in order to leave room to taste every course.

EXPLORE A WORLD OF FOOD

Italian cuisine is well known around the world. Milano City offers fine food from every region, ranging from its own saffron-laced “risotto alla Milanese” to specialties from far-off Sicily or Sardinia. There are also many places to sample the city’s fine “gelato” (ice cream), or munch elegant pastries while sipping a cappuccino.

MILANO BY NIGHT

Milan’s nightlife is a dizzy blend of exclusive nightclubs and intimate bars. Corso Como is home to many of the city’s more expensive venues, while students often flock to the small bars in the Navigli area. Visitors can sample the dance spots of Largo Cairoli, or catch live music in local bars, piazzas or venues such as Alcatraz. Big name jazz artists play at the Blue Note, and there are a number of places that offer live jazz at reasonable prices.

A YEAR OF WONDERS

As we have seen, Milan is home to many permanent museums, galleries, and venues. However, there are also many periodical events on the Milanese calendar that bring the city to life. In early spring, the Settimana dei Beni Culturali opens up Italy’s public museums and galleries for free, while the Salone Internazionale del Mobile in mid-April is one of the world’s largest exhibitions of furniture, The Oh Bej! Oh Bej! street market in December fills the piazza Sant’Ambrogio with traditional food as well as crafts and antiques. Night owls will love La Notte Bianca in mid-June, where bars, shops, restaurants and cinemas extend their opening hours to 6am. A huge open air antiques market occupies the Navigli area once a month, as does a flower and plant market twice a year in April and October.
